Section 2: Introduction to Appointment

Job Title: Consultant in Emergency Medicine

Department: Emergency Department

Base: St John's Hospital, Livingston

Post Summary: 10PA substantive post available.

Section 3: Departmental and Directorate Information

St John's Hospital opened in 1989 and is located in the centre of Livingston, a new town 15 miles west from Edinburgh. The hospital has an emergency department and provides for all of the core medical specialities. In addition, there are visiting consultants in Dermatology, Rheumatology and Renal Medicine. The main departments within the hospital are:

- General Medicine with specialists in Acute Medicine, Cardiology, Diabetes & Endocrinology, Gastroenterology, Respiratory Medicine, Care of the Elderly and Neurology
- Accident and Emergency
- Obstetrics & Gynaecology
- Child Health including Paediatrics and community child health
- The regional Burns and Plastic Surgery unit.
- Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery
- Day case General and Orthopaedic surgery
- Ear, Nose and Throat Medicine
- Anaesthetics
- Critical Care
- Mental Health including ICCU and ICU and the Regional Eating Disorders Unit

Since 2005 general surgery and orthopaedics have been reconfigured in NHS Lothian with SJH being developed as a major elective centre for the region. Lothian's ENT service was relocated to SJH to create an integrated head and neck unit with OMFS and Plastic Surgery. There is a dedicated endoscopy suite, a Programmed Investigation Unit, an Intensive Psychiatric Care Unit, a digital mammography unit, an oncology (cancer care) day centre, a satellite renal dialysis unit and a new Macmillan/ Marie-Curie Palliative care centre. There are supporting Laboratory and Diagnostic Radiology Services (including CT, Ultrasound and MRI).

The Emergency Medicine Department at St John's Hospital sees approximately 60,000 patients a year. The department manages all levels of medical emergency and minor to moderate injuries in both adults and children. St John's Hospital does not offer emergent or acute general or orthopaedic surgery and an ambulance diversion policy is in place. However, patients may self-present with these problems and liaison with other acute services in Edinburgh is occasionally required. We have strong links with the regional head and neck unit and support from obstetrics and gynaecology, paediatrics and critical care. The Emergency Department currently houses 3 resuscitation bays, one of which is designated as a paediatric bay. There is a 6 bedded Majors monitored area plus a larger majors non monitored area and triage. St Johns runs two minors scheduled clinics managed by the ENP team however they are still considered part of the wider ED team.

Out of hours, there is an adjacent General Practice service with whom we maintain a strong relationship. This facilitates easy transfer of patients between services.

The Emergency Department has access to a limited number of observation beds within the hospital.

Section 7: Working for NHS Lothian

Working in Edinburgh and the Lothians

Who are we?

NHS Lothian is an integrated teaching NHS Board in Scotland providing primary, community, mental health and hospital services. Calum Campbell is the Chief Executive, Professor John Connaghan CBE is the Chair and Tracey Gillies is the Executive Medical Director.

NHS Lothian provides services for the second largest residential population in Scotland – circa 850,000 people. We employ approximately 26,000 staff and are committed to improving all patient care and services and engaging staff in service planning and modernisation.

Over the next year across Scotland there will be significant changes in the way health and social care services are provided. In April 2015, integration came into effect in local areas led by four Health and Social Care Partnerships in East Lothian, Edinburgh, Midlothian and West Lothian. Working together will help us provide even better services for our communities and, where appropriate, people will receive high quality care closer to home. There is work underway in relation to the operational and governance capacity required, ensuring that planning for unscheduled and scheduled care is done in tandem between the four Integrated Joint Boards and the acute service.

Further information about Edinburgh and NHS Lothian can be found on our Intranet site: <https://org.nhslothian.scot/>

Our vision, values and strategic aims

We strive to provide high quality, safe, effective and person centred healthcare, continually improving clinical outcomes for patients who use our services and for our population as a whole.

To achieve this, we are committed to ever-closer integrated working with patients and our other partners in healthcare and to embedding a culture of continuous improvement to ensure that:

- Our staff can contribute fully to achieving the best possible health and healthcare, based on evidence and best practice
- Everything we do maximises efficiency and delivers value for patients and the public

We have identified six strategic aims to ensure we can deliver safe, effective and person-centred health and social care:

1. Prioritise prevention, reduce inequalities and promote longer healthier lives for all
2. Put in place robust systems to deliver the best model of integrated care for our population – across primary, secondary and social care
3. Ensure that care is evidence-based, incorporates best practice and fosters innovation, and achieves seamless and sustainable care pathways for patients
4. Design our healthcare systems to reliably and efficiently deliver the right care at the right time in the most appropriate setting
5. Involve patients and carers as equal partners, enabling individuals to manage their own health and wellbeing and that of their families
6. Use the resources we have – skilled people, technology, buildings and equipment – efficiently and effectively.

The specific areas of focus and actions needed to achieve each of these aims are detailed in “Our Health, our Future: NHS Lothian Strategic Clinical Framework 2014 – 2024,” consultation document which you will find at:

<https://org.nhslothian.scot/Strategies/Pages/default.aspx>

<http://careers.nhslothian.scot.nhs.uk>

Our Health, Our Care, Our Future

NHS Lothian works to help people live healthier, longer lives – no matter who they are or where in the region they live. Much progress has been made, but significant challenges and opportunities lie ahead. NHS Lothian draft strategic plan - Our Health, Our Care, Our Future – sets out what we propose to do over the coming decade to address these challenges and continue to provide a high quality, sustainable healthcare system for the people of Lothian.

In developing the strategic plan we have:

- asked staff and patients what and how things need to change to deliver our aims
- brought together local plans into an integrated whole
- identified opportunities to make better use of existing resources and facilities
- prioritised areas that will make most difference to patients

The plan outlines a range of proposals, which will allow us to:

- improve the quality of care
- improve the health of the population
- provide better value and financial sustainability

Over the coming months we will discuss the need for change and the proposals set out in the plan with staff, patients, communities and other stakeholders. A summary of the plan can be found at

<https://org.nhslothian.scot/Strategies/OurHealthOurCareOurFuture/Pages/default.aspx>

NHS Lothian's Clinical Quality Approach – Quality Driving Improvement

This is a new way of approaching quality in NHS Lothian. With this approach to service improvement we aim to deliver 'high quality, safe and person-centered care at the most affordable cost'. This acknowledges that every £1million of waste, unnecessary or inappropriate costs in one area of our system, denies us the opportunity to invest that £1million in another area of our system.

In all highly reliable healthcare organisations, it is clear that senior leadership commitment to the importance of the work, the introduction of consistent improvement methodology, the use of good quality data and building improvement capability within the workforce, are key to the successful delivery of improvement strategies.

To allow NHS Lothian to meet the needs of our population today and in the future, we need to build on the good work that is already being done to redesign services and create a whole organisation approach to quality improvement.

NHS Lothian Values into Action

NHS Lothian is determined to improve the way their staff work so we have developed a set of common values and ways of working which we need to turn into everyday reality - to the benefit of everyone working in the organisation and, most importantly, to the benefit of people using our services.

Our Values are:

Quality

We continually look for ways to make what we do even better.

Dignity and Respect

People are communicated with in a way that they understand and staff check that the individual has understood the information given.

Care and Compassion

We take time to ensure each person feels listened to, secure, understood and is treated compassionately.

Openness, Honesty and Responsibility

We continually listen & learn from staff, people receiving care, carers and family.

Teamwork

We understand and value each other role and contribution.

Throughout the recruitment process candidates will need to demonstrate they meet all of Our Values. More information on Our Values can be found by clicking on the link at the bottom of our Careers website front page: <https://careers.nhslothian.scot/>

Equality and Human Rights Strategy 2023 – 2028

NHS Lothian wants to improve the health of everyone in Lothian so that everyone lives a longer, healthier life, with better experiences and outcomes including people who work for and with us. Our equality and human rights strategy supports us to put equality and human rights at the centre of everything we do so that we achieve these aims and meet our legal requirements. It sets out six strategic priorities – each on helping us understand and act on the experiences and needs of people who work for us and use our services. Our priorities are:

1. Equality and human rights are a central part of our planning, decision-making, delivery and reporting.
2. We are an anti-racist organisation, and our work helps to eliminate racism and remove racialised inequalities and prejudice.
3. We anticipate and meet the needs of disabled people so they can access services, employment opportunities and have better outcomes.
4. We are gender inclusive, we do not discriminate on grounds of sex or gender identity and our work helps to tackle persistent gender inequalities.

5. We support people who use our mental health services and people with dementia to know about and claim their rights, and to make decisions about their care and treatment.
6. We reap the benefits of equality and human rights education and training.

Anti-racism

As a healthcare provider and employer NHS Lothian has a duty to stop racism, inequality, and discrimination. We have acknowledged and apologised for NHS Lothian's historical connections with transatlantic slavery and the impact on all the people who suffered. We are implementing recommendations made by an Independent Advisory Group to ensure we learn from our past and build a better future for everyone. More information, including a short video, is available on the NHS Lothian website: <https://org.nhslothian.scot/aboutus/atlantic-slavery-and-the-royal-infirmary-of-edinburgh/>

We have launched our anti-racism campaign, 'We are NHS Lothian': <https://www.facebook.com/lothian.nhs/videos/927242979125104/> to encourage everyone to understand and acknowledge racism and take action to eliminate it. The campaign aims to drive forward the work NHS Lothian has started to achieve meaningful change in the diversity of its workforce and to embed a respectful, tolerant and inclusive culture for everyone.

Reasonable Adjustments

NHS Lothian strives to be an exemplary employer and an "employer of choice" by doing the following to support disabled staff:

- Creating a positive organisational culture where every individual employee is valued for the specific skills that they bring with them into the workplace;
- Enabling staff to feel empowered and to speak up when they require support;
- Helping staff to feel safe in sharing their personal information regarding their disability in order that the organisation can continue to improve support and awareness for the benefit of everyone;
- Creating a management culture where supporting disabled staff is delivered in a positive manner and based upon the desire to retain valuable skills within the organisation and not solely on any legal requirement to do so.

NHS Lothian recognises it has a duty to make reasonable adjustments for disabled applicants and employees. NHS Lothian aims to ensure that it takes all reasonable steps to remove or adapt any provision, criterion or practice, or physical feature of premises that may put a disabled person at a disadvantage at any stage of employment. Wherever possible, we are committed to providing auxiliary aids and making sure information is provided in an accessible format to make sure disabled people are not put at a disadvantaged. Further information on the adjustments that may be made are outlined in our <https://careers.nhslothian.scot/wp-content/uploads/2024/03/Reasonable-Adjustments-Guidance.pdf>

<https://careers.nhslothian.scot/wp-content/uploads/2024/03/Reasonable-Adjustments-Guidance.pdf> which is intended to guide a conversation between the staff member and their line manager to find the best ways to reduce barriers and enable staff to thrive in their roles. It provides a framework within which to discuss the staff member's disability and what changes/adjustments can be made at work to assist them. Completion of the passport is voluntary, and it designed to be completed with reference to NHS Lothian's Reasonable Adjustment Guidance.

The networks are involved in creating the annual Advancing Equalities Action Plan and moving actions forward, thus helping to improve the working lives of all NHS Lothian staff.
